Don't go to VIRGINIA.—The Enterprise of yesterday lists its warning to who contemplate going there in search of work in these words:

Folks from abroad are coming to Virginia every day. Many of them have barely money enough to reach here and arrive in the midst of the Winter with their families, and all perfectly destitute. There is no place here for them, nothing for them to do but suffer and perhaps die.

We have already more people than we know what to do with. There are, at least, 1,500 men here, in Gold Hill and this vicinity, out of work. The bill making interference with or obstruction of railroads a felony, passed.

The bill amending the Act for the payment of jurors was postponed.

The joint resolution for boring artesian wells, passed.

LIGHT BREAKING.—A correspondent of the Gold Hill News writes as follows about the State Prison Warden business:

At last there seems to be a little light breaking on the State Prison question. I learn from an authoritative source that General C. C. Batterman, after a great deal of solicitation, has consented to allow his name to be put forward as a candidate for the office of Warden of the State Prison. This circumstance, in my opinion, will insure the passage of the bill vesting the election of Warden in the Legislature, assembled in joint convention on the first Monday in February biennially. The Act, if passed, will take effect immediately, and the first election held under its provisions will take place on the first Monday in next February. My reason for thinking the bill will pass on account of General Batterman's allowing his name to be used are, that, besides being a stanch, true-blue Republican, he has hosts of friends who would like to see him in the position; that he is known to possess the qualifications necessary to the proper fulfillment of the very important trust; that his name will concentrate wavering Republicans in action on the bill, and that there is some politics in it. The Republicans were ready to ignore the politics and throw away the chance for the spoils of office if they were not assured that they could find not only a true Republican, but a honest, competent and faithful man with whom to supersede Hyatt. A man in whom they have every confidence has been found, and it is looked upon as an almost foregone conclusion that the bill will pass. If it does pass, it will settle a great deal besides the mere question of the Wardenship, and will put an end to the long-existing squabble over State Prison affairs.

INSANITY IN MASSACHUSETTS.—From recent statistics published it would seem that insanity is rapidly increasing in this country, and especially in Massachusetts, whose population is nevertheless noted for sobriety, education and refinement. The number of insane people within that commonwealth is estimated to be over four thousand, three-fourths being treated at the various hospitals and asylums sustained by the State. On the first of January there were the following number of insane patients in State hospitals, viz: At Taunton, 796; at Northampton, 470; at Worcester, 490; at Boston, 195; at Somersville, 160. Probably there are several hundred more in private hospitals and asylums of which the public have no knowledge or record.

ROYAL SPIRITUALISTS.—In this country spiritualism has been taking the retrograde track within the past two or three years; but in Great Britain, and on the Continent, it is winning many converts, even among the literary and educated classes. William Howitt, the venerable English author, is a leading spiritualist, and in a recent communication to the London Telegraph, he said: "It would startle some people to discover how many royal palaces in Europe spiritualism is firmly seated, and with what vigor it is diffusing itself through all ranks and professions of men. At least three crowned heads on the Continent are enthusiastic spiritualists."

The transfer books of the Exchequer and Justice Mining Companies will be closed until the 28th day of January, 1877.

Trains are running on time to all points.

ABOLISHING OCTOBER ELECTIONS.—There are several reasons besides the unnecessary expense why Ohio and Indiana should discontinue the practice of holding October elections in the years when a November election is to follow. Governor Hayes of the former State recommended in his late annual message that the former election should be merged in the latter, and the Indiana Legislature has gone further, by considering a bill before it making the change.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

Carl Schurz approves the Compromise.

Hon. Chas. B. Lawrence has been unanimously nominated by the Illinois Republican caucus for United States Senator. General Logan having peremptorily declined to permit the further use of his name. Lawrence is an ex-Judge of the Supreme Court, and a man highly esteemed. He has declined to be a candidate, but may recall that determination.

John W. Smith has failed with $1,000,000, in assets, of from $3,000,000 to $4,000,000. He is President of the Colorado Savings Bank, and the Denver Woolen Mills, and connected with other institutions.

Conkling holds that it is "the right and duty of Congress to ascertain and verify the electoral votes and to declare the true result." He denies the right of the President of the Senate to perform these acts.

John R. McPherson was chosen United States Senator from New Jersey by one vote, over Frederick T. Frelinghuysen, the present Senator. McPherson is a Democrat.

The World says: W. H. Vanderbilt's first public act of importance since his father's death will meet with general approval. He has practically given $250,000 towards carrying out Strakosch's project of a grand opera house.

OUR STATE PRISON.

The biennial report of P. C. Hyman, Warden of the State Prison, has been submitted to the Legislature, and it reveals these facts: The cost of feeding prisoners and officers of the prison for the past two years foots up exactly 23 cents a day. The VAGRANT ACT.—A few days ago we published the Vagrant Act as it now stands on the statute books of Nevada, and we urged our officers to their duty. The Grand Jury have also demanded of them the same service, and now with the law, the Grand Jury and every law-abiding citizen to endorse them, "why don't the officers enforce this law?" The number of vagrants who are now in Reno far exceed that of any other time in our history as a town. They have come here by the dozen and are getting a living in some means, and as it is pretty evident they have no money, the means of their getting that living is a question which those who lose clothing and other articles think they can answer. The dastardly attempt made Tuesday night to rob L. D. Wickes shows what desperate characters some of the Reno vagrants are. No one will doubt that the outlaw who did that deed would not hesitate to murder the man if it were necessary, to get his purse. Such characters need vigorous treatment. Nothing short of a full application of the law will answer the requirements of the case. While other communities are making it warm for these chaps Reno acts like a city of refuge to them by her passiveness. The citizens demand that their lives and property be protected, and expect the officers to do all they can to secure this. All know that the laboring man does not commit these depredations. It requires no argument to prove this. Then upon the vagrant rests the entire blame, and upon the vagrant should the punishment be visited. There is not a tax-payer nor a good citizen in Reno but will gladly endorse our officers in crusade against this scourge of society. Our roads afford a splendid opportunity to utilize this vagrant labor. A glance will show how extensive this labor is, and it is always better to wear out than to rust out. In the name of the people of Reno who have property and lives to protect we demand that our officers do their simple duty, and rid us of a class of non-producers who are a curse to our town.

In the Eastern Conference the other day a rough-and-tumble fight took place between Edheim, Pash and the French Envoy, and the Enterprise thinks the whole Eastern question might have been settled on the spot, only for some meddlesome diplomats who seized the fiery Gaul by the coat tails and ignominiously dragged him away.

An Austin juryman objected to being on a jury before which a Chinese man was being tried, and claimed that the law sustained him on the proposition that a man should be tried before a jury of his peers. That juryman was right. He should have been excused and Dawson Parkinson, of the Carson "Tribune," put in his place.

The gross earnings of the Central Pacific Railroad Co. for December were reported at $1,411,000 against $1,379,000 for the same month last year. The total earnings for the year 1876 are given at $18,181,200, against $16,970,000 in 1875 and $14,500,000 in 1874. It is needless to say that the receipts last year were the largest yet.

heaping upon such offenders very severe penalties. Several of these combats have occurred within the limits of our State during the past year, and they have never failed to gather the lawless people together from all the surrounding country, and anything which attracts them certainly is a detriment to the peace and welfare of the law-abiding citizens. The bill further makes it murder if either one of the contestants die from injuries received. We hope the law will pass, for many reasons. First—It is brutal and unbecoming the present boasted civilization. Second—It encourages a fondness for scenes of bloodshed which is detrimental to true citizenship. Third—It sets an example to the rising generation which cannot fail to make them worse. Fourth—It is in direct opposition to laws already on the statute books and therefore should not be tolerated. Fifth—The injuries received ought to condemn it. And so we might go on enumerating many excellent reasons why these barbarous customs of hammering and injuring each other for money should be stopped by the forcible arm of the law. True the Sheriffs have jurisdiction now to stop such things, but the more stringent the law the more these officers will attend to their duties and squelch them. The last prize fight had in Storey county, or possibly in Washoe—for it was very near our line if not within our limits—resulted in the serious injury of one of the fighters, so much so in fact that his life was dispensed for a long time. If the sum of society will not behave themselves the laws should make them. In the law now before the Nevada Legislature should be embodied a severe penalty upon every Sheriff who permits such a thing when it is possible for him to prevent it. Spurred to duty and many a scene of disgrace, known as a prize fight, will be prevented. The law should pass.

The Sacramento Record-Union of Tuesday has the narrated account of an attempt to rob Wells, Fargo's express car on the lightning train last Sunday morning:

As the lightning express train was passing between Summit and Truckee last Saturday night, or rather Sunday morning, an attempt was made by one or more persons to rob the express car. This car is an old caboose, with doors in the end, but, in order to make the express compartment more secure, a partition has been built across the end of the car, with another door in it, which the express messenger usually keeps tightly fastened with a bar. The robbers, after the train was well under way from the Summit, attacked the outer door—which was easily disposed of, having a sash in the upper part of it—but, after getting it open, discovered that there was another door which would require more time to force than they had at their disposal before the train would reach Truckee, and they accordingly gave up their attempt at robbery, pulled the bell cord, and, when the train had slowed down sufficiently, jumped off and disappeared. The conductor thought the engineer had stopped to attend to something about the engine, and the engineer thought the conductor had some reason for desiring the train to stop; neither one suspected that anything out of the ordinary run or railroading had occurred, and when the conductor presently signaled the engineer to go on the train resumed its journey. The express messenger had meanwhile been asleep, and did not discover the attempt to rob that had been made until they reached Reno.

The Con-Stock.—We are indebted to the Gold Hill News for the following:

Just as the News has been prognosticating all the while, the great bonanza has been reached by the drift west from the C. and C. shaft, and that drift is now into the rich ore body about twenty-five feet. The report of it having run into a streak of pyrite during the past twenty-four hours is a stock bearing humbug. This drift opens the 1630-foot level of both the C. and Virginia and California, and the drift south from the deep veins of the California at that level to connect with the C. and C. drift is also in rich ore showing every reason to believe that the 1630 will prove to be at least as good as the levels above. Both mines are looking splendidly in their ore yielding levels and showing even better than for some time past. The sinking of the C. and C. shaft progresses slowly, by reason of the very heavy flow of water encountered. The water in the Savage and Hale and Norcross is steadily being reduced and the lower levels are being got at and re-opened as fast as possible. Bullock is showing very good prospects at the lower levels, and Justice maintains her good ore yield and shows no falling off in her prospects. Overman and Caledonia are both showing well at their lower levels, and the completed drift connection between them gives excellent and long needed ventilation, as well as better working facilities than ever.

The Trustees of the Hale & Norcross Mining Co. have levied an assessment of $1 per share, amounting to $112,000, delinquent in the Board February 22d and at the office five days later.

TAKE TO OF KILLED.

House.

Kennedy gave notice of a bill to prevent the collection of accounts for liquor sold at retail.

INTRODUCTION OF BILLS.

By Hammond—To amend the Civil Practice act.

By Moore, of Elko—To amend the Act fixing the number of officers of the Legislature. Its purpose is to protect the property used by clerks and officers of the Legislature.

By McIntosh—To regulate savings and other banks.

By Trousdale—To amend the Fee bill.

The bill amending the Act to prohibit the sale of liquor and firearms to Indians was lost.

The Committee on the State Prison reported favorably to the passage of the bill to elect the Warden of the State Prison, with amendments. The principal amendments in the pending bill rest the appointment of his deputy in the Warden, and take away the power of removal of the Warden from the Governor or Prison Board. It provides that in case of the death or resignation of the Warden, the Board of Commissioners may appoint his successor. The amendments were adopted and the bill ordered engrossed.

The Assembly adjourned, having exhausted all the business before it.

ATTEMPTED CAR ROBBERY.

The Sacramento Record-Union of Tuesday has the narrated account of an attempt to rob Wells, Fargo's express car on the lightning train last Sunday morning:

As the lightning express train was passing between Summit and Truckee last Saturday night, or rather Sunday morning, an attempt was made by one or more persons to rob the express car. This car is an old caboose, with doors in the end, but, in order to make the express compartment more secure, a partition has been built across the end of the car, with another door in it, which the express messenger usually keeps tightly fastened with a bar. The robbers, after the train was well under way from the Summit, attacked the outer door—which was easily disposed of, having a sash in the upper part of it—but, after getting it open, discovered that there was another door which would require more time to force than they had at their disposal before the train would reach Truckee, and they accordingly gave up their attempt at robbery, pulled the bell cord, and, when the train had slowed down sufficiently, jumped off and disappeared.

The conductor thought the engineer had stopped to attend to something about the engine, and the engineer thought the conductor had some reason for desiring the train to stop; neither one suspected that anything out of the ordinary run or railroading had occurred, and when the conductor presently signaled the engineer to go on the train resumed its journey. The express messenger had meanwhile been asleep, and did not discover the attempt to rob that had been made until they reached Reno.

[REASONABLE FEES.]
This is an original proceeding upon certiorari instituted for the purpose of obtaining a review of the action of the Commissioners of Washoe county in vacating a certain highway.

The petition filed in this court shows that the relator is injuriously affected by the closing of the road, and avers that the order was made upon a petition of only fourteen persons in a county containing more than one hundred legal voters. The return to the writ shows that the petition was signed by only fourteen persons, and is silent as to the number of legal voters in the county.

As the jurisdiction of the board to make the order complained of must be affirmatively shown. (6 Nev., 95; ib. 104; 5 Nev., 317; 9 Nev., 360), it must be presumed that the county of Washoe did contain more than one hundred legal voters, and consequently, that the petition upon which the board assumed to act was insufficient to authorize their proceedings; for the only law in force at the date when the petition was filed and the order made, required the signatures of twenty-four free-holders, in counties containing one hundred or more legal voters, to any petition to vacate a highway. (Stat. 1866, p 252, Sec. 5.) That the action of the board was in excess of its powers and completely null and void admits of no doubt. But the respondents contend that this proceeding is barred in this case by the judgment of the District Court of Washoe county in a similar proceeding formerly commenced in that court. The manner in which this point is raised does not entitle it to be considered upon its merits, if it had any. There is no plea of former judgment. But, waiving that objection to its consideration, it is clear that the evidence would not have supported such a plea. It appears that the District Court refused to issue the writ and dismissed the application. Nothing was adjudicated in the District Court, so far as appears except that the petition filed there was insufficient to authorize the issuance of the writ. But the petition filed in this case contains a material averment that was not contained in the petition to the District Court. In this case it is averred that the petition to the Board of Commissioners to vacate the highway was signed by no more than fourteen free-holders, while in the District Court it was only alleged that the petition had been signed by fourteen free-holders, without the addition of the words "and no more." This difference is material, and consequently the judgment in the proceedings in the District Court is no bar to this proceeding, in which the petition is conceded to be sufficient. (47 Cal., 32; 2 Metcalfe, Ky., 514; A. K. Marshall, 237; 24 Ind., 150.)

The order of the Board of Commissioners of Washoe county, dated March 1, 1873, vacating a certain highway commencing at the Virginia and Truckee railroad, in Washoe valley, and running through the lands of E. Owens and Joseph Frey to the upper county road, is declared and adjudged to be null and void, and the relator will have judgment for his costs herein expended.
